

The Adventures Of Chicken

By Jacob Day

It was a bright, summer day and a chicken leg, named Chicken, was wandering around BokBok's chicken buffett. BokBok's had mashed potatoes and gravy, macaroni, pizza, and chicken. Chicken had never been on the buffet counter and wondered what was up there.

One day he came up with a plan to get up on buffet counter. Chicken went to the table in the far back corner, witch had a lot of gum under it. 37 pieces to be exact. He took some gum, two forks, a spoon, and a rubber band and made a catapult.

Once chicken made the catapult, he launched himself on the counter... landing right in the gravy! Chicken swam around and thought it was really fun. Eventually, Chicken got tired of swimming in gravy and climbed up the scoop.

When he was walking on the counter he fell on the pizza. For some reason the pizza was bouncy. Chicken felt like he was on a giant trampoline. Once Chicken was bored he bounced off of the pizza... and into the chicken wings.

The chicken wings got mad at Chicken for landing on a wing and began chasing him. Chicken ran until he saw a piece of pizza on the ground. He jumped towards the pizza... but face planted an inch to the left of the pizza. Most of the chicken wings face planted to. Chicken was wondering if chicken wings even have faces, but ran to the bathroom so he didn't get tackled by the wings.

Once chicken got into the bathroom, he climbed a toilet. When the wings came in, they began climbing the toilet as well. Chicken began running around panicking and screaming "bok bok"...

While running around the seat, he fell into the toilet... Just then, a chicken leg wearing a jetpack and top hat flew in to help. His name was apparently Top Hat Monkey Chicken.

Eventually, Top Hat Monkey Chicken and Chicken escaped the wings and started a rock and roll band called Chicken Rock.
