

THE WHALE
S friend

by: Ingram E.

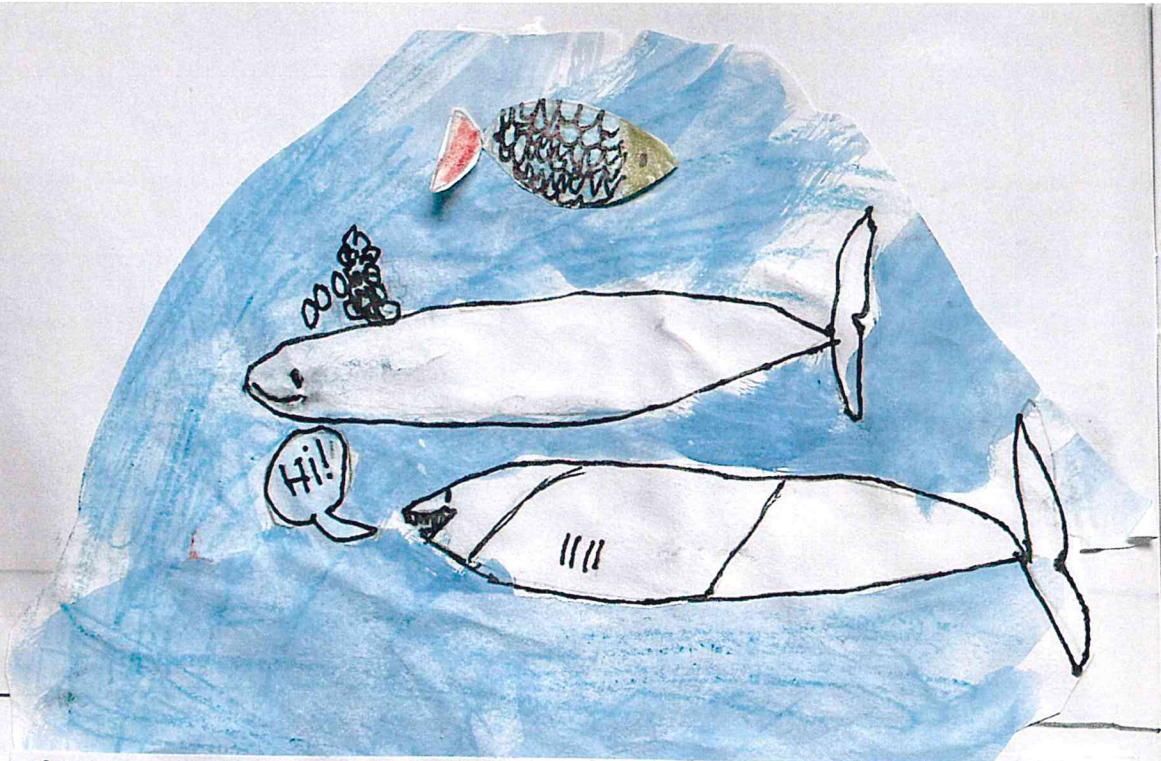

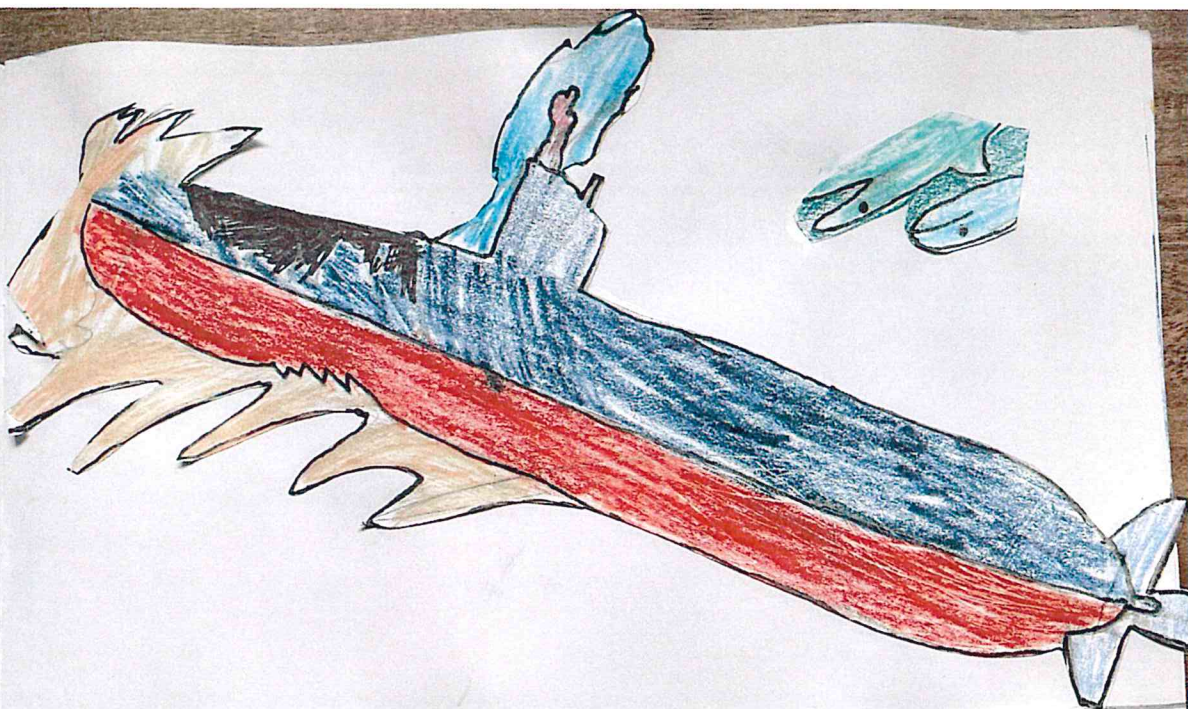

Once upon a time, a blue whale named Looney was feeding on krill in the Atlantic Ocean and a Great White Shark swam by him. When he saw the shark, he swam away fast and went home hungry. The next day, Looney went to the same spot and the same thing happened! Looney felt angry because he couldn't feast on krill with the Great White Shark there. So, the next day, Looney went to a different spot. It was perfect at this spot! He kept feeding at this spot until one day he realized there wasn't any krill left. He went home upset and hungry because he didn't find any krill and decided to go back to his old feeding spot the next day. When he got there, he noticed the great white shark was there again, but he couldn't go fast enough to get home.

The Great White Shark was just as fast and caught up to him. Looney felt scared but as the Great White Shark got closer, Looney noticed that he was nice because the great white shark invited him home, which is just what Looney wanted, a friend. Together, they played happily ever after. THE END.
